Not illustrated. 1902 Excerpt: .he had no invitation, the minister of foreign affairs know/ing he was absent when he sent out the other invitations (4) A question might arise here as to how and why Capt. Wiltie received and complied with a request which Minister Stevens could not receive because of his absence. Mr. Stevens statement becomes even more open to criticism when we (1) ReportB. 1123 . (2) Ibid. 207, 442 (3) Ibid. Know that he later offered an apology for his absence. (I) Surely, If according to his first statement, he was not at liberty to attend without an invitation, there would be an occasion for an apology unless he had received an invitation and had not accepted the same. Minister Stevens feeling of security regarding political affairs January 4, was not confined to himself alone. Several members of the legislature who had already too long sacrificed business interests to legislative delays now agreed that the crisis was over and they might with safety return to their homes. This they did, and thus the reform party of which they were members as weakened until it was no longer the controlling faction. The departure of the Foster, added to this loss of supporters by the reform party, revived the hopes of the opposition sufficiently to lead them to renew their earlier efforts to remove the cabinet and pass the lottery and opium bills. On January 4- the very day the Foster left harbor, Mr. Bush introduced a resolution of...
